

KRMC PRIMARY CARE

TEAM-BASED CARE FOR YOUR BEST HEALTH

At KRMC Primary Care, your doctor oversees a team of dedicated health professionals. These professionals—along with your doctor and you – make up your primary care team. Your care team may include a nurse practitioner (NP), a physician assistant (PA), or both. At some of your visits, you may be seen by your NP or PA rather than your physician.

Experienced Health Professionals

Both NPs and PAs are independently licensed health care providers. Each has extensive knowledge in healthcare; they have completed many hours of advanced coursework and clinical training with physicians.

NPs and PAs perform the following patient care functions:

- Diagnose and treat illness
- Prescribe medication
- Refer patients for specialty care
- Provide counseling on preventing health issues, managing your conditions, and other health topics

The Care Team Model

At the center of our care team is you: the patient. Your care team is designed to work collaboratively with each other and with you to help achieve your health goals. Evidence suggests that team-based care can improve patient health outcomes. The Care Team Model offers many benefits to our primary care patients, including:

- Efficient care
- Decreased wait time for appointments
- Care coordination between providers
- Comprehensive follow-up

Primary medical care is essential for maintaining health and wellness. KRMC's primary care teams offer you the support you need for your best health.
